Performance Evaluation and Army Recruiting

To some extent, motivation to perform the job might be better addressed by manipulating the reward and recognition structure as well as the work environment in which the recruiter performs rather than by developing better selection tools. They should also echo the objectives on the leader's support form as a team member's performance contributes to mission accomplishment.

7 considerations to evaluate a recruiter's performance

There is little systematic research on strategies for locating recruiters. It poses a strong threat of bias on the appraiser's end. Army War College Press, October 2013 , accessed 17 September 2019,.

Performance Evaluation and Army Recruiting

Similarly, comprehensible, individual feedback on performance is another critical step in ensuring that recruiters understand their own strengths and weaknesses and are able to target their own developmental efforts appropriately. Because the military cannot use most types of financial incentives, the Services rely instead on nonfinancial incentives such as plaques, watches, rings, and military decorations in lieu of cash compensation.

Performance Evaluation and Army Recruiting

If he thinks the employee doesn't have a particular trait he will leave it blank and mentions about it in the improvement column. Because the recruiting job is so unlike other military jobs, the Services might take the approach of developing a performance appraisal system that is outside the routine systems used for administrative purposes. For comparison, an example of the 1934 efficiency report format, shown here, highlights the perennial challenges the Army has faced over time in capturing and expressing an effective and fair means of comparing the performances of officers.
