It let you set the drive speed back to 'silent mode' when just listening to music and worked like a charm. However, Red Book-standard audio CDs work in a different way, have a much lower error-protection capability and rely on the spacing between the bumps and the angle of their edges to retrieve and decode the data properly. Does this programme link to the National Curriculum? What else can I do to help my child with their reading? Speed Sounds on to each individual machine.
