This means you're shooting the barrel too hot. .

Fine Tune Your Rifle By Diagnosing Your Target

In a second study, white college students saw white, black, and Asian faces. One possibility is that there is a pervasive stereotype in the United States that black men are more dangerous than white men.

Advanced Forensic Techniques In Crime Scene Investigations II

Asians are LESS violent than Whites.

Fine Tune Your Rifle By Diagnosing Your Target

The numbers do in fact tell us that there is a very large racial disproportion in violent crime.

Shooter Bias and Stereotypes

You can argue til the end of time as to whether these disparities are due to social conditions, culture, genetics, environment.
