

Šuni sei padadhvani.

- - Suni

Description: -

-Šuni sei padadhvani.

-Šuni sei padadhvani.

Notes: Romanized.

This edition was published in 1970

Filesize: 29.107 MB

Tags: #Suni

Suni

A male usually takes one mate, but other females may share his territory. Suni can make weak barking and whistling sounds. Princeton, New Jersey USA : Princeton University Press.

Suni

A single calf is born weighing about two pounds, after a of 183 days. It occurs in dense underbrush from central to in. Females do not have horns.

Suni

The belly, chin, throat and insides of legs are white. Both sexes weigh between 4.

Suni

They scent-mark the boundaries with secretions from their. They are social but males defend a territory of about three hectares. This antelope resembles Bates's pygmy antelope in terms of measurements.

Related Books

- The Circular Staircase
- Arlington Key - a guide to local information advice and help for residents of Arlington House.
- Inheritance - who should have a claim to a persons property on death, is the present law fair? : you
- Guide des tissus dameublement
- Religion and the rise of capitalism - a historical study.