People like activity - it's suggests more people are on the site and will read your article if you go to the trouble of writing one.

Print Reference Resources

Is somebody here interested in this? I think, here the same approach could be used. Many of the fights at WP are about the vision for what some given article should look like, the organization, the emphasis.

Kohomologi

I imagine there are other such projects in other fields.

Mathematics information resources: Background information

Orphaned pages We have many. By contrast, in , as the use of recursively-defined concepts increased, they were used more and more. I think it's some form of triangle.
