Early Black Settlements by County

During the 1880's and 1890's, Oregon changed from an agricultural pioneer society to an urban-industrial economy linked to the rest of the United States by railroads and commerce.

The Territory of Idaho was officially organized on March 4, 1863 by Act of Congress, and signed into law by President Abraham Lincoln

Idaho Territory assumed the boundaries of the modern state at that time.

Nez Perce

The Woman's Board maintains eleven mission schools, with fifty-five instructors and six hundred twenty pupils. Playing pirates was the big game.
