The broken bridge of public finance: majority rule, earmarked taxes and social engineering

Lokudyog, 3 : I April 1969 23-31. This paper explains how and on what grounds the chairman is removed by a no confidence motion in four municipalities of Rajasthan. Deals with the possible causes for friction between the commissioner representing the executive wing, and the Mayor, the Standing Committee and the council representing the deliberative wing.

Polling and Democracy

It would involve a re-examination of each item of expenditure, and the selection of expenditures for purposes of expanding, improving or maintaining physical assets as items of capital formation. It also follows from this view that leaders have role responsibilities with respect to public opinion: they have duties to articulate and frame public opinion, in a way that is responsive to the wide varieties of constituencies affected by collective decisions.

Federal Records Guide: Alphabetical Index

Overall, this constituency representation literature provided evidence for district level responsiveness to public opinion, controlling for other variables, among which issue salience remained important. By the same token, 60 percent or greater congruence may not include many important cause-and-effect connections.

The Collected Works of James M. Buchanan, Vol. 9 (The Power to Tax)

Provincial grants, which have been cut drastically since the 1990s, partially fund the public post-secondary institutions in the province; the remaining funds needed to operate come from tuition fees and other sources. Taneja; Training programme in municipal administration, by D.

The Three Levels of Government

First, the trend of municipal bond issues was determined. These practices were allowed to continue after the union was formed, so that a British identity could develop alongside a Welsh or Scottish identity. The challenge for those who are intent on understanding and using the resulting knowledge is to know that it exists and to collect it together in one place.
