The river tamed for tourists

The manor house was built around 1260 as a community house for two Knights Templar. Existing riverside attractions such as pubs and restaurants will be encouraged to accommodate the specific needs of walkers, cyclists and sailors. Self-catering accommodation is great value especially if you are intending to get the whole family together or take a longer break.

Similarly, the Thames provides a clear terminal to the southwest, whereas northeast of Luton the hills decline slowly in prominence.

About Us

It was completed in 1832 to designs by William Tierney Clark who also designed the bridge across the Danube in Budapest. The Board's purposes are set out in : In summary these are:- First, to conserve and enhance the natural beauty of the AONB, and increase the understanding and enjoyment by the public of the special qualities of the AONB. Marlow sits on the First Great Western branch line with services running every hour between Marlow and Maidenhead before joining the London Paddington to Reading mainline.

The Chilterns AONB

Our growing Next Generation Committee also works to engage, educate and support our next generation members, who are expected to succeed to the ownership and management of member houses in the future. If you are considering applying to LEADER for a second time, please call to discuss your project with the team prior to submitting an Outline Application.
