Land Records

Archivists respond to the challenges of archival work by recognizing the need to organize resources and seize the opportunity to broadcast widely the value of archives. Rayner was willing to make considerable sacrifices to get what the Canadian Navy needed to be an effective force at sea.

Average earnings of male and female employees in manufacturing, survey week 1956 to 1965, and percentage increases over previous year

Museum technicians often prepare materials for display. Some archivists coordinate educational and public outreach programs.

Empirical research on archivists' skills and knowledge needs in Chinese archival education

In its early days, too, the report was heavily weighted toward engineering and business disciplines. As serious as this growing manpower crisis was, however, naval headquarters was preoccupied with its own problems.

IPUMS International

The Financial Post Survey of Canadian Oils 1937 shows Grattan Oil Co. This includes employees in federally regulated industries, federal Crown corporations and certain Indigenous government activities on First Nations reserves.
