Law Library Blog

A thinly disguised alternate history, Typhoon projects an idealized version of postwar Asia onto our own world. Sŏmin kŭngo had a long history of individual businessmen and noncommercial customers loaning others small amounts of money.

Our Saje x Poosh Collaboration Is Here

Although kye had been in existence in Korea since the premodern era, it was during the 1960s and 1970s that they became a major social phenomenon, popular with and dominated by women.

Saeng Chai Pochana Restaurant Review

This interview was conducted in Seoul on April 15, 2014. Largely as a consequence of the urban development programs of the Park Chung Hee regime, private homeownership became widely perceived as a form of self-realization and thus a goal to be achieved even at the risk of alienation, speculation, and even bankruptcy.

Cultures of Yusin : South Korea in the 1970s

The Dongdaemun Design Plaza, designed by the world-renowned architect Zaha Hadid, opened its doors in 2014 as a symbol of Seoul as a 18 global city on the grounds where the Dongdaemun Stadium once stood, home to the many baseball tournaments that Park Chung Hee sponsored as president. What enables this dream is the housing lottery system, with the lottery ticket functioning as an emblem of the desire to achieve selfrealization otherwise than through a life of standardized consumption. The epilogue skips thirty years ahead.
