Dr. David Gelernter and Rabbi David Saperstein at the March 2010 Faith Angle Forum

The Sacraments make us sharers in divine life, and provide the spiritual strength necessary to experience life, suffering and death in their fullest meaning.

Pacem in Terris

This book examines the tactics and approaches used by the pro-life movement to fight abortion and euthanasia, and the various sources and causes of conflict between individuals and organizations within the Movement. Regional and world wars involve multiple sovereign nations.

New Documents Reveal How a 1980s Nuclear War Scare Became a Full

We are opposed to capital punishment simply because it deliberately ends human life and thus threatens the sanctity and dignity of all human life. In our country today the checks and balances in the government are being undermined. In the name of what justice is the most unjust of discriminations practised: some individuals are held to be deserving of defence and others are denied that dignity? While unpopular in some areas, the war against Iraq is not only justified, but is also necessary for a number of reasons.

To Wake the Nation

Noble is not a Christian, but his discussion is a welcome addition.

The Power to Change

Looking at the situation from this point of view, it is possible to speak in a certain sense of a war of the powerful against the weak: a life which would require greater acceptance, love and care is considered useless, or held to be an intolerable burden, and is therefore rejected in one way or another. This book is an exploration of the evidence for evolutionary convergence — the idea that there are islands of stability and that evolution will identify these islands.
