Elegy (The New Critical Idiom)

All these indignities, for such they are From thine, these evils I deserve and more, Acknowledgre them from God inflicted on me mo Justly, yet despair not of his final pardon Whose ear is ever open, and his eye Gracious to readmit the suppliant ; In confidence whereof I once again Defy thee to the trial of mortal fight, 1175 By combat to decide whose God is God, Thine, or whom I with Israel's sons adore. Nonetheless, Shelley makes a distinction between something that is worked as opposed to something that is merely felt.
