Apple ProDOS

The jaw drops open when a vowel in a syllable is spoken. We have a couple of videos that will show you that it can be done! However black magic spells have the potential to cause damage to other people if performed in a certain way, but they should be okay provided that your intent is honorable and that there is no malice or malevolence clouding your mind when you perform the ritual.

8.0

Open syllables If a syllable is open, it will end with a long vowel sound spelled with one vowel letter; there will be no consonant to close it and protect the vowel to-tal, ri-val, bi-ble, mo-tor. Please give it a try and let us know if you encounter any issues.

Secret Stories®

This is a spelling convention; the extra letters do not represent extra sounds.
