I was impressed by the size of the turtle even though the guide said it was a medium one.

Ras Al Jinz Turtle Reserve (Oman)

Something is different this time. Both and Salalah have always been filled with cruise ships from all over the world. He loves his home and is afraid things will change while he's gone.

We Love Oman: A safe home for sea turtles

Peak nesting totals for green sea turtles have increased over 600% from 1990 to 2007, but have grown almost exponentially in the past handful of years. I have to say though, I was bummed that none of this story actually takes place in Michigan.

Green sea turtle returns to Oman after 21 years

I think it was lovelier because I had a connection to the places being described. Green turtles have a distinctive green shell Green turtles are large sea turtles that get their name from the greenish color of their cartilage and fat.

14 Things You May Not Know about Oman

As one of the most important nesting sites for Green turtles, an endangered species, strict laws are in place to ensure that they are protected.
