Francisco Zúñiga Catalogue Raisonné — Catalogue Raisonné Scholars Association

When did work commence and how involved was the artist? Francisco Zúñiga always maintained complete control of his work. With the help of his dealers there, I learned everything I could about the art market.

We provide fast and reliable shipping service. It became obvious that a catalogue raisonné was necessary, but it was a long time before we were ready to produce it. At first this was for two days a week, then a few years later it became full-time, and I learned from him about the lost wax process, faux detection, formal choices, as well as putting order into files and correspondence.

In these cases, we might have only received a list of titles without any images, so it would take some time for us to detect it, even when we have an established relationship with the museum. Since some periods were more prolific than others, in some cases we will further divide the sections. His works are held in major museums throughout the world, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of Modern Art in New York and the Museo de Arte Moderno in Mexico City.
