Lost And Abandoned Tunnels

As its name suggests, Sydney's Moving Walking, also known as a Travelator, is in The Domain, or more correctly, under The Domain.

The Secret Tunnels of Sydney, Australia

Major construction on the four-kilometre Warringah Freeway upgrades will begin in late 2021, while some work will begin as early as March. The army base on site which included the transport group and 30 Terminal Squadron, left Georges Height's in 1997.

Lost And Abandoned Tunnels

Numerous coastal cliffs are riddled with tunnels connecting bunkers and gun emplacements that were part of a hastily built network of fortifications intended to defend Sydney against attack from the sea. The first battery on Middle Head was built in 1871 and was designed by James Barnet, a colonial architect.
