The Microcosm of London Rudolph Ackermann set of 4 Aquatint

The completed work then appeared in book form in three volumes between 1808 and 1810. The pictures in this book cover all the well-known public buildings of London-churches, banks, prisons, theatres, etc.

Microcosm of London; or, London in miniature : Pyne, W. H. (William Henry), 1769

Carlton House, remodelled for the Prince of Wales between 1783 and 1788, gives Pugin more scope architecturally and he brings out Henry Holland's elegant classical style of which Horace Walpole said, 'There is an august simplicity which astonished me. The House of Commons is plainly and neatly fitted up, and accommodated with galleries, supported by slender iron capitals adorned with Corinthian capitals, from the ceiling hangs a handsome branch.

Equally, at the asylum nobody gets to assert themselves, while the prison inmates are diminished both in size and colour by their environment. If the original book was published in multiple volumes then this reprint is of only one volume, not the whole set.

The Microcosm of London

July 9, 2020 The Microcosm of London was published by Rudolph Ackermann at his shop in the Strand, who commissioned Pugin and Rowlandson friends of his to produce eventually 100 plates. Pugin, 1808-10 ROWLANDSON, Thomas 1756-1827 and PUGIN, Augustus Charles 1762-1832. Contents are thumbled and tanned but overall a good clear presentable copy.
