Dalai Lama biography, Age, Birthday, Quotes, Name

The Dalai Lama was born Lhamo Thondup on July 6, 1935 in Taktser, China. His given name was Ranu Sicho Pelzang. His schooling consisted of logic, Tibetan art and culture, Sanskrit, medicine and Buddhist philosophy, which is divided into five other categories dealing with the perfection of wisdom, monastic discipline, metaphysics, logic and epistemology—the study of knowledge.

Creating a Happier World

The People's Republic of China invaded that same year. His high-profile appearances and books have fueled the surging popularity of Buddhism in the United States and throughout the West. Since then, however, he has only used a shortened version of that name for himself—Tenzin Gyasto.

Dalai Lama

Political Retirement On 14 March 2011 His Holiness wrote to the Assembly of Tibetan People's Deputies Tibetan Parliament-in-exile requesting it to relieve him of his temporal authority, since according to the Charter of the Tibetans in Exile, he was technically still the head of state. He was called Lhamo Dhondup in his childhood. This biography of the Dalai Lama was both interesting and enlightening.
