Home page

Dartmoor ponies roam its craggy landscape, defined by forests, rivers, wetlands and granite tors created about 280 million years ago.

The Dartmoor Line

Explore the highest tors on foot, tackle the steepest hills on your bike, hack over the moor on horseback, brave a cold dip while wild swimming, try out kayaking and climbing or enjoy a sedate day fishing; there are so many options for exploring Dartmoor National Park! Lineside neighbours and road users will be informed in advance of any work that may impact them. The station was thoroughly and very sympathetically restored in the 1990s by Devon County Council and partners, including the late Roy Gibbs, for the introduction that year of Summer Sunday services.

Dartmoor School

The campaign took a key step forward with the forming of the OkeRail Forum in 2014.

The Dartmoor Line

With 450 miles of paths to walk, cycle, run or ride, thousands of archaeological sites and features to discover the past, Dartmoor is packed full of stunning views that steal your breath, mysterious stories to intrigue and spaces to simply sit and be. Exeter is an employment hub for people in the Okehampton area and although it is linked to Exeter by the A30, traffic levels on routes into the city can be extremely congested at peak-times.
