Min I'jaz al

One of the most important points of this commentary is its discussions regarding the relation between the in which further or apparently less connected verses were explained and from this perspective, al-Tabrisi can be considered among rarest Shi'a exegetes who have reflected on the relations between verses. . Many biographers have spoken about al-Tabrisi's scholarly position and have praised him well.

Majma' al

This commentary is very much influenced by 's , with the difference that classifying issues, al-Tabrisi has helped the reader better benefit the text selectively. This book deals with the Ayah Mutashabbihat, the verses or parts of verses that are similar or identical, a useful science especially when memorizing the Quran.

Majma' al

According to what he has written at the introduction of Jawami' , he saw the commentary after writing Majma' al-bayan and al-Kafi l-shafi and he was astonished by 's great literary and eloquent discussions and his rational inclinations and thus he wrote a commentary more concise than Majma' al-bayan under the influence of Zamakhshari's al-Kashshaf and his eloquent approach. The book is reviewed and recommended by several Egyptian Quran and Tajwid specialists.

Farbih'tar az īdi'ulūzhī

This commentary covers topics such as: recitation, diacritics, glossary, difficult words, semantics, of verses, related and elaboration of stories.

Farbih'tar az īdi'ulūzhī

The structure and development of this book is based on the poem of Imam as-Sakhawi who is well known in the subject of similar verses. One of the most important advantages of this commentary is its establishment of relations between the verses in which further or apparently less connected verses were explained and from this perspective, al-Tabrisi can be considered among rarest Shi'a exegetes who have reflected on the relations between verses. Position Majma' al-bayan is one of the most important Qur'anic commentaries in the Islamic world that Shi'a and Sunni scholars have referred to and regarded as one of the old references which has been compiled in the best way with consistent headings.
