Not so fortunate was his cousin Henry Man who remained tethered to his secretarial desk at the South Sea House until his early death aged 51 in 1799. This John Baker, as appears from the Subsidy Roll of 35 Elizabeth, 1592, was assessed for land in Worfylde of the value of xxs. The great visiting in Glasgow was limited very much to supper parties; but then those agreeable reunions, although not quite so ceremonious, partook much of the same style as a dinner of the present time.
