Check Out The 7 Probabilities Of Future Human Evolution

True, I have heard men say that they would prefer the end of man to submission to the Soviet government, and doubtless in Russia there are those who would say the same about submission to Western capitalism. Some of these men, fortunately, escaped; the rest disappeared.

Nostradamus Shocking predictions for 2021 and Beyond

Speculation for human evolution has long been all over the place, largely because we are only able to guess what is next for us as a species. Scientists say there is relatively low risk of near term human extinction due to natural causes. From the breakup of the Roman Empire to the present day, states have almost continuously increased in size.

The Future Of Mankind

A 1997 assessment states that over a third of Earth's land has been modified by humans, that atmospheric carbon dioxide has increased around 30 percent, that humans are the dominant source of, that humans control most of the Earth's accessible surface fresh water, and that species extinction rates may be over a hundred times faster than normal. But perhaps, if the alliance were sufficiently powerful, war would not be necessary, and the reluctant powers would prefer to enter it as equals rather than, after a terrible war, submit to it as vanquished enemies. But with little to no action being take, the prediction has escalated and more scientists are backing the warning.

End of the world? THOUSANDS of Scientists issue bleak warning about future of mankind

But considered from the standpoint of animals and the earth, the demise of humanity would be the best imaginable event possible, and the sooner the better. These three are: — 1.
