Disputes over the credit for the flight

embittered his final years. But we are celebrating in our modest way. On the 10th of December 1922 Fridtjof Nansen was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for his humanitarian work.

Narrator: Greely and his men would establish the northernmost station on the shores of Lady Franklin Bay, just 600 miles from the North Pole.

About Ann :: Ann Bancroft Foundation

In 1971, he visited Antarctica for the last time, together with his wife, on a journey that commemorated the sixtieth anniversary of Amundsen's discovery of the South Pole.

Polar Exploration: Washington and its Golden Age

Elvin completed her doctoral degree in environmental studies at York University in Canada where she examined mitigation projects used to address the adverse effects of industrial development on black bears. Dhungel is experienced at using AutoCAD, Agisoft PhotoScan, MATLAB, Geodesy, and photogrammetry tools.

Using harsh words he criticised the governments who refrained from giving aid, ostensibly because the Soviet authorities could not be trusted. Our understanding of the Antarctic would not be what it is today without the lessons learnt in the Arctic, the crews who gained experience there and the technologies developed on those expeditions. He legally altered his last name from the Norwegian spelling of Rønne to Ronne.

Arctic Timeline of Discovery

Norwegian Roald Amundsen 1872-1928 and Australian Sir George Hubert Wilkins 1888-1958 led these expeditions and along with American millionaire Lincoln Ellsworth 1880-1951 made headlines in newspapers all around the world. From this place I appeal to the governments, to the people of Europe, to the whole world, for help. Unknown to Scott, this Norwegian rival had unexpectedly launched what was to become a nationalistic race to the South Pole.

About Ann :: Ann Bancroft Foundation

In December 1947, a flight identified a vast floating ice shelf, at the head of the Weddell Sea, which became known as the Ronne Ice Shelf. From 1913 to 1916 he was photographer on the Canadian Arctic Expedition with Vilhjalmur Stefansson 1879-1962. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, 5450 Massachusetts Ave.

Antarctica

This first humanitarian aid project was not successful - Nansen met with no understanding from the allies in Paris.
