U.S. Relations With Spain

Cuba solidified its alliance with the Soviet Union thereafter. Netherlands Antilles, Nicaragua, Panama, Saint Kitts and Nevis, Saint Lucia, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Trinidad and Tobago, and the British Virgin Islands. Executive power is exercised by the Honduran government.

A Familial Relation? Spain and Latin America in the 21st Century

See, for example, Eduardo Galeano, Open Veins of Latin America: Five Centuries of the Pillage of a Continent New York: Monthly Review Press, 1973, 1997. Harmon was chairman and CEO of the investment bank Wertheim Schroder. Demonstrating that a violent culture still existed, on April 26, 1998, two days after the Catholic Church announced the release of its report on victims of the Guatemalan Civil War, Guatemala: Nunca Más, Archbishop Juan Gerardi Conedera was killed by officers of the Guatemalan army.

American Foreign Policy, 1890

THIS BOOK IS PRINTED ON DEMAND. In early 1977, however, new human rights requirements imposed by Congress prompted the Salvadoran government to reject further military aid, although previously authorized aid in the pipeline continued to flow.

Monroe Doctrine

His international policies will probably follow long-standing norms as he embraces multilateralism and traditional diplomacy. In 1899, in an effort to mitigate other foreign interests and still protect their own, the United States joined Great Britain and Germany in a three-party protectorate over the islands, which assured American access to the strategic ports located there. The number maimed by Contra-laid mines was most likely larger; see Don Mosley, with Joyce Hollyday, With Our Own Eyes: The Dramatic Story of a Christian Response to the Wounds of War, Racism, and Oppression Scottsdale, PA: Herald Press, 1996.

Monroe Doctrine

However, this has more to do with the negative association with far-right parties that Spaniards have due to the memories of the Franco dictatorship than an absence of anti-immigrant sentiments.

On Latin America, Biden to stress diplomacy and less bravado

Foreign policy in the Western Hemisphere focused on strategic denial, that is, to exclude or limit the political, military, and economic influence of European competitors in the region. Following independence from Spain at the beginning of the 19th century, Paraguay was ruled by a series of authoritarian governments who generally implemented nationalist, isolationist and protectionist policies. The junta quickly returned to repression, however, compelling its civilian members to abandon it.
