It seems also that if the former were the right interpretation, and the Minister of Agriculture took longer than 28 days to decide to withdraw the objection, the plan must be called in even if the Minister of Agriculture did not wish to maintain his objection. The claim by the builders that there is a shortfall of land for 78,000 houses in the south-east of England in approved structure plans up to 1991 is disputed by separate and more recent calculations undertaken by the Council for the Protection of Rural England. In addition the construction of a 2m high earth bund topped by a 2m high close boarded fence to the west of Sion House, and a 1m bund with a 2m fence across the south east boundary of the appeal site, as shown in Plan C, would further restrict views into the appeal site. Development of this SUE has an important role to play in linking the emerging communities to the north of the A4500 Weedon Road and the new communities of Upton.
