Devon cutrounds

The age-old debate has rumbled on for years, with both counties attempting to justify their method as correct. Devon has produced tin, copper and other metals throughout its history. In Devon it is traditional to spread the clotted cream onto the halved scone first and then spoon some jam on top.

Over the years we have won many awards at various bakery competitions throughout the UK, culminating in winning the Western Region Baker of the year for 3 consecutive years.

About

Our new lemon curd for example is made wholey from sicilian lemons and has a tangy zing to it that far surpasses any other lemon curd we have come across. This features plain or fruit scones served with fruit jam and thick, yellow, clotted cream.

Cornish SplitsThis is an easy, modern version of Splits, which would traditionally have taken more time to make. Lancashire Hotpot is a slow-cooked stew made of lamb or mutton and vegetables, with a topping of thinly sliced potatoes. By: This food is synonymous with Cornwall.

Cream tea

The nettle coating causes a harmless, edible gray mould to grow all around the cheese. Like most businesses we are always looking for ways to improve and have recently sourced a range of jams and curds that are free from any artificial colours or flavours.

About

They would have impurities from the ground, which helped fermentation.
