'Seaton Delaval', John Piper, 1941

These included the evacuation of children, mothers and bureaucrats from city centres; the introduction of a blackout; the restriction of all forms of mass entertainment to prevent bombing catastrophes; the confining of the BBC to a single, rather boring, programme; the censorship of news reporting; and a dramatic rise in taxation. Original manuscript housed in England's Public Records Office as Public Record No. Although seen in mid summer, this facade was turned against the light.

It was completed around 1077, and has been in Bayeux since the 15th century.

Phyllis Dimond

Very Good: A book that does not look new and has been read but is in excellent condition. AS NEW, bound in Tudor Rose colored boards with pale yellow pictorial wraps. While out hunting in the New Forest, he was shot in the chest with an arrow, probably fired by his friend Walter Tirel, and died of his wounds.

Memory Maps reading list

From 1940 to 1945 she was an air raid warden in Hampstead, London. It is well known that after a year of war, there were still more than a million unemployed.

Pictorial Britain (Alfred Taylor) (ID:56252)

Dust Jacket Condition: Very Good. Dozens of artists recording places that felt eternal, but also under threat, recording a Britain which might disappear at any moment. He also had close connections with St Bernard of Clairvaux and his Cistercian Order.
