Pennsylvania 1830 census index (1976 edition)

In addition to the incorrect spelling in the name, this entry shows that there are 6 people in this household. These indexes list the name of the head of household, a four letter code for the county of residence, page number on the microfilm, and census division. Census of 1900 - Lists name, address, race, sex, date of birth, age at last birthday, marital status; relationship to head of family; number of children that each mother gave birth to, and the number of offspring still alive; place of birth of person and parents; occupation, trade or profession of everyone over 10 years old; number of months every able-bodied person unemployed that year; how many months of school each household member attended.

Note: Although there appears to be a mark in the column to the right of the 2 female persons, shown with a blue circle above that is a mark on the microfilm copy, which was verified by the total number of people in the household in Example 4.

Please note that the microfilm constitutes the primary source and should be consulted for errors in transcription.

Pennsylvania Census Records

Commencing in 1800, the age, name, gender and place of residence of each slave is also frequently given and occasionally the name of the slave's owner. The lists the contents for the 1830 Federal Population Census microfilm reels.
