DOJ:CRS: POLICE USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE

I have a day job, and it's obvious that saying these things results in talking to people like Joe, who isn't remotely sympathetic. Findings provide support for the theory. The community-policing curriculum focused on the application of learning rather than memorization, the use of a problem-solving model throughout the academy, and the use of scenarios as the basis for learning.

Biased Policing

In other words, if racial minorities made up 30 percent of the service population, they made up on average 6 percent of the police department. Your donation keeps this site free and open for all to read.

ADVANCING DIVERSITY IN LAW ENFORCEMENT

The government has both fostered and perpetuated those inequalities in clear violation of its obligations under the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights as well as other international agreements. Since 1994, nearly 300 officers have been added to the department, while at the same time complaints against officers have declined nearly 50 percent. Agencies can use these examples as part of their efforts to evaluate their own processes and review whether they are legally compliant and whether they can be improved.

Shadow Report to the United Nations on Racial Disparities in the United States Criminal Justice System

Little attention was given to communications, cultural and ethnic diversity, problem solving, and police-community relations.
