Going beyond Google; the Invisible Web in learning and teaching.

The theater-centric service added nine RSC works in January, beginning with productions of Hamlet and King Lear that were filmed in 2016. FindSounds: Search the Web for Sounds FindSounds finds sound effects on the web.

Going Beyond Google Again: Strategies for Using and Teaching the Invisible Web by Jane Devine

It can be searched for content as a database and returns results with author, title, source, a line about the purpose of the article, and the cost to access. It seems unlikely that people will give up their reliance on general-purpose search engines or their practice of beginning a search using Google or one of its competitors. These robots maneuver their way through all linked data on the Internet, earning their spidery nickname.
