In this paper we explore the question of why the appointment of women as judges provokes so much controversy in Egyptian society, and in the judiciary in particular. Mervat Hatem 'A'isha Taymur's Tears and the Critique of the Modernist and the Feminist Discourses on Nineteenth-Century Egypt 73 PART TWO: MOTHERS, WIVES, AND CITIZENS: THE TURN OF THE CENTURY 89 Chapter 3.

Remaking Women

My least favorite was Abu Lughod's Feminism and Islamism in Egypt. Drug use and prostitution are two of the main sins that the West normalized in the Mid-East.

Remaking Women

The Ethics and Politics of Muslim Women's Rights in an International Field. Contrary to popular perceptions, newly veiled women across the Middle East are just as much products and symbols of modernity as the upper- and middle-class women who courageously took off the veil almost a century ago.

The West in modernizing the Mid -East have not taken that idea away. Asia were supported and backed by the CIA, even to the point of a Hollywood blockbuster with Mel Gibson called Air America.
