Colorado Fishing Resource

You suggest that Lake Trout then be left with nothing to sustain the population. Surface temperatures have climbed above 80 degrees and fishing is extremely slow. For current conditions link below or call 719-539-4223.

Selected Coldwater Fishing Spots in Colorado

A fee is required to fish in the North Slope Recreation Area. Channel cats are being caught on night crawlers, shrimp and cut carp or shad.

So anyway, Shadow is a great candidate to try to do something to change the white sucker population structure and see if we can get a positive response out of the sport fish community. It would be foolish to assume that TGM wouldn't at least occasionally move through the channel and check things out over on that side.

Colorado Headwaters Fisheries Management: February 2013

Fountain Lake - Like other urban lakes in the Pueblo area, this one is stocked 12 months a year and trout fishing is usually good in spring and fall.

Colorado Headwaters Fisheries Management: Grab bag

Use green Arpies, Dick Nites, Needlefish or Wedding Rings. Small gold and silver spoons or spinner do well in the deeper pools. Conditions Report: Denver Metro Region Arvada Reservoir - Water temperature is in the low 70s and trout fishing is good from boats.

Colorado Kokanee Fishing

Trout are feeding on small stoneflies, midges and caddis.

Selected Coldwater Fishing Spots in Colorado

Navajo Reservoir - The lake is full, with water temperatures in the mid-70s. To date, we have always had to obtain our TGM's from out of state.
