In 1786, Lord Haikt came forward with the excellent Dr. Srdly, Are any descendants male or female of him now living? We particularly refer to Plate 77 of the above-named work, where may be seen a brass of a Knight of the Cuttes family, circa 1440, from Arkesdon Church, Essex, which exhibits the warrior armed with a weapon as nearly like this as possible. Earle Einar having heard of the preparations made against himself, laughed at them, and to that purpose composed some verses or rhymes.
