Support legislation such as the MBTA and the Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act that has helped to save raptors, and monitor conservation situations that affect raptors in your own state. Chicks that in June leave the drab or yellowish eggs thickly spotted with chestnut brown, run from the mossy ground-nest at once; and in July, when family parties begin to congregate in Labrador, join the whirling companies of adults in many a preliminary wing drill before descending to the States.

Speculum or wing- bar rich purple with green reflections and bordered by black and white. Coues describes this plover's note as half a whistle, half a chirp, quite different from the other plovers' calls; but a plaintive quality can be detected in it, too, as in the voices of most beach birds, that reflect something of the mystery and sadness of the sea.
