Several of the landing ships for that morning were delayed, and the officer in charge decided to delay H-hour for 60 minutes, until 8:30. The exercise was to last from 22 April until 30 April 1944, at the Slapton Sands beach in Slapton, South Devon. All of the pages are intact and the cover is intact and the spine may show signs of wear.

Invasion of Normandy

By dawn, nearly 1000 American servicemen, many young and untrained, had lost their lives. The planners knew heavy tanks and transport could not travel on the beaches, which had soft underneath them. Emphasising the town's continuing history of boatbuilding, between 1998 and 2001 Pete Goss built his revolutionary but ill-fated 120-foot Team Philips catamaran here.
