

Women-headed households - the ignored factor in development planning

International Center for Research on Women - Martin Goodall's Planning Law Blog: HOW TO OBJECT

Reasons for emergence of Female Headed Households *
a. The broad range of domestic situations typically characterized by the absence of a resident male head, viz, widowhood, divorce, separation and desertion
b. Migration of male members for long periods
c. Loss of economic function by resident males due to severe unemployment, disability, illness and male reluctance to accept jobs seen as status reducing, etc.
d. Households with no mature sons
e. Sons residing in independent nuclear units.

*Source: Mayra Balán, Women in Household: Women-Headed Households: The Ignored Factor in Development Planning, International Centre for Research on Women, Washington, DC, 1978. (Quoted by Leanne Lippin, Women-Headed Households - Coping with Crisis, Class and Gender Hierarchies, Economic & Political Weekly, April 15, 1994)

Description: -

- Women heads of households -- Caribbean area.

Fatherless families -- Caribbean area.

Women in development.

Women heads of households. Women-headed households - the ignored factor in development planning

-Women-headed households - the ignored factor in development planning

Notes: Bibliogr. : p. [115-119].

This edition was published in 1978

Filesize: 59.91 MB

Tags: #6 #Social #Factors

Factors affecting planning permission: Your neighbours

Almost 14 percent of the U. Many of the social determinants listed below are specific forms of or contributors to these three categories.

Single Motherhood in South Africa

We won't go into a long discussion of alternative community engagement methods here, but if what you have usually done to involve your residents does not work, try something else until you succeed. Wagner and other key Swedish feminist scholars and intellectuals of that time shaped the parameters of Swedish thinking and both the environmental and women's movements.

Single Motherhood in South Africa

Fifty-five percent of Chicago's 964,000 African-Americans live in these 21 community areas, in which the aggregate population is 96 percent black. For example, in terms of loans women are found to get fewer and less loans to acquire land than men.

Women and the environment

According to Schultz et al. Zed Books in association with INSTRAW. Secretary-General António Guterres was elected amid calls for new feminist leadership at the United Nations and pledged to advance a feminist agenda as part of its leadership platform, inviting civil society to monitor his success.

Caroline Moser

I see lack of jobs as the biggest factor that keeps Chicago segregated. Low-skilled and low-status employment is more likely to involve exposure to physical hazards, such as toxic chemicals e.

Housing & slum upgrading

This can enhance community efficacy and empowerment, and is also most likely to address the issues most important to those involved. All are given equal weightage.

Women Left Behind? Poverty and Headship in Africa

Today's environmental feminists' scholarship focuses upon transnational, and.

Martin Goodall's Planning Law Blog: HOW TO OBJECT

There are consistent data to support that children have the ability to self-regulate the amount of food or energy consumed in unrestricted conditions. Until such time, the World Bank is working with the most optimal ways and means to help the poorest households who are in urgent need of such assistance. The results from the states thus far have been impressive.

Related Books

- Novi međunarodni privredni poredak i savremeno međunarodno privredno pravo
- English as a second language - adult ESL programs and activities supported by Immigration Bridging P
- White Fang
- Prairie wildflowers - showy wildflowers of the plains, valleys, and foothills in the northern Rocky
- Teoria del piano - Giovanni Astengo e il piano di Bergamo : un caso paradigmatico