In some cities, the Government conducted second enumerations because of questions about the accuracy of the first. The Soundex coding system was developed to find a surname even though it may have been recorded under various spellings.

Vermont: Heads of Families at the Second Census of the United States Taken in the Year 1800

The letter is always the first letter of the surname whether it is a consonant or a vowel. The indexers may also have encountered an NR surname, with or without a given name and initials.

1790

The Institution Cards exclude personal data on individuals and, at most, may note only the number of inhabitants.

Census Records

Surnames that sound the same, but are spelled differently, like SMITH and SMYTH, have the same code and are filed together. For other suggestions see Evarts B. Institution Cards appear at the end of the last roll of Soundex microfilm for a state or territory.
