Surprising Words from the 1920's

The cokehead likely existed before 1922, but it is in that year that we first see written evidence of the word. Also used first in the 1920s were radiation sickness which did not require an atom bomb, although atom bombs greatly increased its severity , dating from 1924, and arms race, from the same year.

Timeline of the Roaring 20s

H G Wells was apparently the first to use phrase atomic bomb; he did so in 1914, well before atoms were being split. This symbol indicates a link to a non-government web site.
