Little, Brown - Browse subject: Therapeutics

The screenshot shows the Medscape website with the title "Cochlear Implant Surgery Treatment & Management". It includes a brief description of the procedure, author information (Curtis A. Myerstein, MD, FACS), and a "TREATMENT" section. The "Medical Therapy" section notes that while many medical treatments are available, cochlear implants are the most effective. The "Surgical Therapy" section discusses the implantation process, noting it can be time-consuming and may require multiple operations. It also mentions the need for pre-operative audiological, medical, and endocrinological evaluations. The "Preoperative Data" section provides specific details about patient selection and preparation.
