As war ended, in 1995, Karadzic was indicted for genocide and several counts of persecution and crimes against humanity; those same diplomats now baying for his capture. Nazi injustices against the Roma were recalled at the ceremony, including that directed at boxer.

Raw memory : Prijedor, an 'ethnic cleansing laboratory' / Isabelle Wesselingh and Arnaud Vaulerin ; preface by Elie Wiesel ; foreword by Paul Garde ; translated by John Howe .

And there is a thread between these origins and what has become a weariness with the tribunal's work on the ground, and among the victims themselves. But they were just one aspect of a campaign of 'ethnic cleansing' that helped to drive more than 40,000 people - nearly half the pre-war population of Prijedor - into exile. On July 12 the Šeković Detachment was deployed along a road leading from the town of Bratunac to Srebrenica.

Romani genocide

Harmon recalls the very first trial in 1996 — that of Dusko Tadic, who toured the Omarska and Keraterm camps, killing and beating. What is left to say about the war today, and the crimes that were committed? The law was set, the platform established that we were capable of trying the cases we were charged to try.

Raw Memory: Prijedor, an 'ethnic Cleansing Laboratory'

This entity of the Bosnia and Herzegovinan state, ethnically Serb since the war and the district in which Srebrenica lies, only formally recognized the genocide of Srebrenica in 2004.
