A Guide for First

Support your baby's chest and head with one hand by cradling your baby's chin in the palm of your hand and resting the heel of your hand on your baby's chest be careful to grip your baby's chin — not throat. More frequent bathing may be drying to the skin. An infant's navel area shouldn't be submerged in water until the cord stump falls off and the area is healed.

Parents' Guide to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act: Rights Regarding Children's Education Records

Schools must honor your request to review your child's education records within 45 days of receiving the request.

Parent and Family Digital Learning Guide

From this point forward, the IEP will include programs and services to prepare for adult life transition services to address your child's hopes and dreams for the future. Based on the IEP, the Committee must determine the student's placement, ensuring that services are provided in the least restrictive environment LRE. Bonding and Soothing , probably one of the most pleasurable parts of infant care, happens during the sensitive time in the first hours and days after birth when parents make a deep connection with their infant.

A Parent's Guide to Special Education

At least once a year, you and other members of the Committee will review your child's IEP. The school district, local special education director, or state special education director can answer questions about IDEA.
